The first chain of high-end campsites, we went beyond the limits of imagination, science and engineering. A project created from the ground up to be the next icon of modern hospitality in Argentina.

PRISTINE was born on the basis of the triple impact economy, where we understand that we are only facilitators, generators of opportunities for the genuine growth of the communities with which we collaborate, and the engine of conservation of the destinations where we are located.

Located 8 kilometres inside the heart of the Salinas Grandes de Jujuy, PRISTINE SALINAS GRANDES unites on the one hand the protagonism of the ancestral culture of our strategic partners of the Cachi del Chincho Cooperative of the Aguas Blancas community, and the values applied to the real sustainability of the project. Together, they make this a dream in which many can identify themselves.

You will be met by the guides at the entrance gate to Salinas Grandes, they will accompany you on an 8km walk to the heart of the salt flats.

During the tour you will learn more about the salt flats, their geological formation, our Andean culture and the community you are visiting.

You will be informed about the ecological qualities of our glamping and its concept of sustainability, mentioning that the whole venture is an example of triple impact.

The trip, during some summer months (with water) takes approximately 45 minutes, during the rest of the year and in winter, without water, 30 minutes.
